

Plenary III

Friday, October 9
1:00 pm – 3:00 pm

Margaret Stumpp

Margaret S. Stumpp, PhD is Chief Investment Officer for Quantitative Management Associates (QMA) – a $60 billion investment management affiliate of Prudential Financial. Her organization's clients include large corporations, endowments, public entities as well as individual investors. She has authored numerous articles in publications such as: The Financial Analyst's Journal, The Journal of Portfolio Management, and the Journal of Investment Management. Margaret makes frequent conference presentations, has appeared on CNBC and her research and opinions have been covered publications ranging from the NY Times and the Wall Street Journal to Newsweek and Forbes magazine.

Margaret holds MA and PhD degrees in Economics from Brown University. She is also a member of the research committee of the Q-Group in Finance, and also a member of the CFA Institute, the CQA, the NY Society of Security Analysts and the Financial Women's Association of NY (FWA).

In early 2002, Margaret formally changed genders from male to female while maintaining her visibility in the investment profession and focuses on issues affecting transgendered people in the workplace.