2010 SUMMIT HIGHLIGHTS

Out & Equal Workplace Advocates names finalists for 2010 Workplace Awards

The "Outie" Awards recognize individuals and organizations for exceptional achievements on behalf of lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender employees.

On Thursday, October 7th, winners of the coveted "Outie" Awards will be announced as part of the 2010 Workplace Summit at the Los Angeles Convention Center.

"Every year, I am overwhelmed by the number and quality of the nominations received in each of the Workplace Awards categories," noted Out & Equal Founding Executive Director Selisse Berry. "This year is no exception. Each of the finalists is among the top leaders in the LGBT workplace equality movement."

Workplace Awards Categories:

The Trailblazer Award recognizes an LGBT person who has made a significant contribution to advancing workplace equality by helping improve their own workplace or contributing to equality nationally.

Out & Equal is proud to announce that the 2010 Trailblazer Award winner will be presented with a complimentary course registration for UCLA Anderson School of Management's LGBT Leadership Institute. UCLA Anderson LGBT Leadership Institute aims to engage business leaders in transformational education programs about LGBT issues.

The Champion Award recognizes a non-LGBT person who has played a pivotal role in championing equal treatment of LGBT employees on the job. This individual will have demonstrated a significant commitment to LGBT workplace rights.
