

2010 Out & Equal Workplace Summit

October 5–8 in Los Angeles

Opening Plenary

Wednesday, October 6

8:30 – 10:30am

Kimberly Reed

Kimberly Reed is a filmmaker living in New York City. She was named one of "25 New Faces of Independent Film" by Filmmaker Magazine, and one of "Five to Watch" by The Advocate. Reed has been awarded Fellowships at the Yaddo Artists' Community and the Squaw Valley Community of Writers. She directed/produced PRODIGAL SONS, which SF Weekly calls a "whiplash doc that heralds an exciting talent." PRODIGAL SONS, a co-production with BBC Storyville and Sundance Channel, premiered at the prestigious Telluride Film Festival with a record seven screenings. The film has gone on to be shown around the world in theaters, festivals, and on television, garnering more than a dozen Jury and Audience awards, including the FIPRESCI prize. She has been featured on the Oprah Winfrey Show and CNN, among other media outlets. Reed is a summa cum laude graduate of UC Berkeley and a Montana native.